

HELLAPAGOS

A cooperative game... until the food is gone!

After your boat was shipwrecked, your group of survivors has found themselves on a deserted island where water and food are very scarce. The only way to escape this nightmare is to work together to build a big raft, but time is short as a hurricane is coming which threatens to wipe you out! Each turn the castaways must choose one of four actions: catch fish, collect water, gather firewood or search the shipwreck. Team up to survive, but there's not enough for everyone: be prepared to sacrifice your companions in case of shortage! You have to be as treacherous as you are diplomatic to secure a place on your last chance to escape!

A lot of interaction in this almost cooperative game. Humorous game for all.
